

Ad to Us by Market World, Inc. Offers Unlimited Advertising Potential for Business and Organizations

This convenient Internet information and presentation delivery service allows businesses and organizations to deliver information about events, store specials, meetings, fund raising, and more using almost any media as a delivery platform.

Simply inform a prospective client about the information availability, provide them with your associated domain name. Your receiver of information now has the ability to receive your coupons and specials, links to your website and email resources, maps to your offices, stores, or auctions. Links on your PDF file may play a video, sound file, or provide connections to additional information. The PDF file may be designed as a directory to focus upon a specific area of information or instruction.

PDF files are easily read through the free reader available, easily forwarded by receivers to other persons interested in your products or services.

The cost for one year hosting of your PDF file along with a dedicated domain name to launch your file is only $10.00. Send us all your information content you would like to have placed within your presentation display through the convenient upload center at www.AdToUs.com or call Market World, Inc. at (316) 264-0900.
